Severe Beelines in Amalgamated Copper and Anaconda Mining-Some Firmness in the Railways, However-Depression in London.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.-The decidedly reactionary tendency in this morning's stock market was commonly attributed to the demoralizing influence of an addi-tional 6 point break in Amalgamated Copper. Whether that incident could be accepted as the correct explanation of the stated tendencies of the market or not, it was a fact that material and effective pressure was evident in nearly every

The few stocks which moved counter to the general drift of prices had their course sufficiently accounted for through purely technical considerations. There was no change in the character of the gossip and discussion attending the severe decline in Amalgamated Copper. It was noted, how-ever, that Anaconda Mining, a constituent concern of the Amalgamated, suffered almost as severe a loss as was shown in the latter stock, a circumstance which was taken as confirming to a great extent the reports current in the depression of the copper trade.

At the same time, it would appear that the ordinary speculator and investor in Amalgamated Copper ought to receive the current reports bearing upon the property with a strong mental reservation. They heard nothing of them, in fact, when the stock was 20 or 20 points higher number of the industrial corporations, has been made the occasion of an outburst of denunciation directed against all industrial enterprises. The United States Steel Corporation, in particular, largely on account of the conspicuous position of the property, and more particularly because of the recent protracted strike of the property, and more particularly because of the recent protracted strike of the employee of some of the constituent companies he are all the constituent companies and the constituent companies has been very little diminution its income because of the labor troubles, both by remaster to those of fits plants which were in full operation the production of the mills which were. when the stock was 20 or 30 points higher and it is only reasonable to suppose that the very extensive decline of the last few weeks was owing to the advance sales of what are commonly called "inside interests," undertaken in anticipation of the disclosures which are now common property.

The virtual reduction of the dividend on Amalgamated Copper, following upon the recent disclosure of the affairs of a number of the industrial corporations, has been made the occasion of an outburst of denunciation directed against all industrial enterprises.
